About the Journal

The Caucasus Journal of Social Sciences (CJSS) is a peer-reviewed research journal that aims to publish reports of original research, reviews, and articles; it seeks to appeal to an interdisciplinary audience, focuses but is not limited to the Caucasus region, and covers real-world research analyzed from a scientific point of view.

It publishes works from various fields, including anthropology, archaeology, economics, education, geography, history, information science, international relations, law, linguistics, politics, psychology, public health, and sociology.

Papers in the humanities and other disciplines will be considered if they are related in some way to one or more of these disciplines.

The Journal considers papers for publication that deal with academic disciplines studying human aspects of the world.

Special Issues devoted to important topics in social sciences will occasionally be published.

Thanks to the highly qualified editorial board members, the Journal ensures the highest standards of peer review for all manuscripts submitted for publication.

Established in 2008, the Caucasus Journal of Social Sciences was initially published in print.

The journal is published annually.

Abstract *

This research paper delves into the profound and pervasive concept of the pursuit of knowledge as a fundamental aspect of human existence. Drawing from various disciplines, the study examines the historical, cultural, and philosophical dimensions of knowledge acquisition. The paper explores the challenges and ethical considerations associated with the ever-expanding pool of information in the digital age, emphasizing the need for critical thinking and responsible use of knowledge. The interconnectedness of different fields and the importance of interdisciplinary collaboration in fostering innovation and progress are also highlighted. Through a comprehensive analysis, this research aims to contribute to a deeper understanding of the role of knowledge in shaping societies and guiding humanity's collective journey.

Reviewer Guidelines

The following procedure is followed in sending the outcome of reviews to the editor:

A) Logging in to Send the Review Results

- Clicking on the link in the e-mail, get into the internet website of the journal.
- If you've forgotten your user name and password, you can retrieve them using the link in the message that will be sent to you by the editor.
- Log in to the system using the Register in the menu.
- If you log in successfully, the article that's been sent to you will be listed on "Active Submissions" page. Just click on the name of the article to move on to the evaluation page.
- On the # Review page, first, scan through the titles of "Submission to be Reviewed" and "Review Schedule".

B) Review Steps

Under the heading of "check out the evaluation steps", the steps are as follows:

If you don't accept it, click on the icon "I will not evaluate" to send an email to the editor that is automatically composed. If you've accepted the evaluation, follow the next steps.

2. Click on "file" to download the article and its attachments if there is any, submitted to you for evaluation and its attachments. You can carry out the assessment process either on screen or save the evaluation form. If you've downloaded or printed it out, you can log off. Completing the evaluation, you can sign in again to follow the steps to send your evaluation.
3. If you've approved to evaluate the article in the very first step, write down your opinion and comments regarding the assessment of the article in the form to be sent to the editor and then save it clicking on the icon at the end of this step.
4. If you already have any other form (MS Word ...etc) of your evaluation, upload your file using Send File option to send it to the editor.
5. In this step, result of the evaluation is sent to the editor. To send your evaluation to the editor, you should either fill out the form clicking on the icon in the third step or upload any file including your comments and suggestions by using the file uploading method in the fourth step. After using one of these options, the menu in the fifth step will be activated. Here, choosing the appropriate option in the Recommendation box, save your final decision about the article to send it to the editor. After clicking on "Submit Review to Editor", you will be asked for confirmation with a message: "You cannot make any amendments after saving your evaluation. Do you want to continue?" When approved, an emailing window will pop up. Inform the editor about the result using that window. Following this process, the evaluation report will be available on the screen.

If the articles are approved by the editorial board, after the reports of the referees are completed, they are ready to be published. Suitable amount of articles is published in the order in which they are received.

Continue to Step #3 Go Back

Below the navigation bar, a prompt asks the user to 'Select the community where you want to submit your record.' with a 'Select a community' button. The main content area is divided into two columns. The left column has a 'Files' section with a storage status of '0 out of 100 files' and '0 bytes out of 50.00 GB'. It features a large dashed box for 'Drag and drop files' and an 'Upload files' button. Below this is a 'Basic information' section with a 'Digital Object Identifier' field and radio buttons for 'Yes' (selected) and 'No'. The right column contains a 'Draft' section with 'Save draft', 'Preview', and 'Publish' buttons. Below that is a 'Visibility' section with 'Public' (selected) and 'Restricted' options, and a note that 'Public' means the record and files are publicly accessible. At the bottom of the right column is an 'Options' section with a checkbox for 'Apply an embargo'.
